Funkyman99 8/12/2016 10:07 PM

So it seems about 9 or so admins violated policy & resigned and make some public big drama about it. We have over 150 admins; we can afford to lose more if you feel have an axe to grind.

The fact is nobody is perfect including your truly - I make plenty of mistakes but in the end I have to make decisions that you might not like or find inconsistent. If you can't stand the decisions, it might be time to part ways but do it with honor. I told Tiger that in PM. This isn't the first time this type of thing has happened and it won't be the last. If you got a serious problem with me and don't want to talk to me, try talking to the execs and they can talk to me about it.

Those that caused drama are now forum banned for a week or more.
